The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

Shed no tears for television!

The one-eyed monster of the living room has lost little by way of reputation in the fixed — quiz scandals, the latter of which is being readied for viewing before a special U.S. House of Representatives subcommittee November 2.

Television has lost nothing. It is first and foremost a medium of entertainment. The fact that several quiz show contestants have stated for the record that questions and answers were in hand before the showing, does not lessen television as an entertainment medium except in the matter of high-prize quiz shows.

Biggest loser, I should think, is in the field of education. Most of the television-watching world associated Charles Van Doren (winnings $129,000), the personable Columbia University instructor, with intelligent, clean and good things usually associated with colleges. The $4,400-a-year teacher had the further advantages of a distinguished family of authors and educators as part and parcel of his background.

When Van Doren admitted he had "incorrectly" answered some of the questions devised to determine just how rampant television quiz-fixing had become, he tore down, I thought, much of the idealism that has long been attached to teaching at college level.

As a distracting admission, one network executive said that rehearsals are vital to a smooth television performance. He then wrapped Edward Murrow's "Person to Person" show in an aura of dishonesty by stating that even this show is rehearsed. We carry no brief for or against Murrow but we do know about news. It often takes several hours of interviews, or research, and agreement to produce a story that has any depth at all.

The final story usually follows the line of the advance conversations. Without advance interviews the product would be so jerky and trite it would be a waste of time for all concerned.

Additionally, a news program is not dished up as a test of sheer brainpower competing for a tremendous amount of money. The latter, if honest, is an enthralling exhibition. If dishonest, the public is bilked because their creditability is toyed with and the viewer is made a fool of for having believed at all.

If answers were put in Van Doren's hand, the deceit will long take its toll among those who consider integrity a prime ingredient in college make-up and operation.

Amazing as it becomes, not a breath of scandal has been associated with the stock clerk Teddy Nadler who won $264,000 and who makes up in memory what he lacks in television grace.

It is frightening that television producers would sacrifice our noblest institutions and our most revered profession to the Circe call of program ratings.

Reed K. Clegg, in the current issue of The Tax Digest, uttered an attention arresting statement when Fresno County's public welfare expenditures reached 46 percent of Fresno's 1959-60 budget.

Mr. Clegg, who is Public Welfare Director of Fresno County, said abuses in the Aid To Needy Children program have become so acute that they had dictated the need for formation of a Child Study Committee. Abuses where correction was especially needed were in the area of fraud, absent fathers, illegitimacy, stepfathers, residence in California and mismanagement. That covers practically the whole scope of the aid program, I should think.

However, Clegg said a savings of $700,000 of a seven million dollar Aid To Needy Children budget could be made if the above abuses could be corrected. (San Diego County uses $7,057,491 for A.N.C. and Welfare takes $23,853,863, or 41 percent of the total county budget.)

Why does Clegg, who is boss of the Fresno County program, complain so violently? It's because the State Legislature makes unrealistic laws by which county welfare funds must be spent.

Legislature is moving public welfare farther and farther from the concept of family responsibility and families' financial problems are made a responsibility of the Department of Public Welfare instead of requiring it to be solved at the family level.

That's pretty plain talk for a government executive.

Conversely, J. M. Wedemeyer, who is director of all welfare

Supervisors Delay Decision on Recreation Area

To Set Boundaries After Considering Exclusion Requests

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Action was postponed Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors on setting boundaries for a proposed 4,000 acre city-like community service district designed to finance recreational services in the Lemon Grove area.

The postponement — until next Tuesday at 2 p.m. — followed receipt by the board of numerous requests by residents for exclusion or inclusion.

If the district is approved by voters, it would be the first such community service district in the county.

Such a district, according to Bertram McLees Jr., chief deputy county counsel, would have many of the powers usually reserved for incorporated cities. With consent of district voters, district directors could establish such city-like facilities as law enforcement and fire protection, sewage collection. water facilities and lighting.

McLees said, however, that since petitioners for the district limited their request to finance recreation facilities, it would at the outset be limited to that.

He said that more than the

Hearing Scheduled On Zone Change For Medical Unit

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — A public hearing on a zone change to permit expansion of a Lemon Grove medical group's facilities will be held Friday before the County Planning Commission.

The commission itself initiated the hearing, after previously turning down the medical group's request for re-zoning.

The property under consideration is on Olive avenue, between Church and Daytona streets. Lemon Grove Property Development Corp., owners of the land, in September asked that the land be zoned for commercial purposes. The commission refused the request, on the basis that the area should not be given a business classification. The land now is zoned for duplexes.

But commission members suggested to the applicants, represented by Richard B. Miler, of Percy H. Goodwin Co., that the new Residential - Professional zone classification recently enacted could fit the requirements for expansion. The commission then agreed to call a hearing to consider a change to this type of zoning.

Another Lemon Grove property owner has a request for a zone change coming before the commission. This is the application of Roslyn Missler for commercial zoning for about an acre and a half on Imperial Avenue, south of Mt. Vernon Street.

The land is now zoned for duplexes, and the change is being asked, according to the application, to permit installation of a service station.

Goblins to Stalk Streets In Halloween Festival

"Boil, caldron . . . "Halloween, with its witches and goblins, will be here Saturday. Have you muttered YOUR incantations?

PTA Groups Plan Carnivals at All Grade Schools

Youngsters to Plague Householders Friday, Attend Carnivals Later

Despite a concentrated effort on the part of the Parent-Teacher Association to provide plenty of supervised recreation on Halloween, the goblins are expected to prowl the streets and byways this weekend.

PTAs are sponsoring carnivals at all elementary schools in Spring Valley and Lemon Grove. Audubon School, outside the district but in the adjacent Encanto area, also will hold a carnival.

Most of the carnivals were scheduled specifically to keep youngsters off the streets and out of mischief.

However, youngsters have announced that they will go "trick or treating" on Friday night and attend the Halloween carnivals on Saturday.

Various of the carnivals will start at times ranging from 4:30 to 6 p.m. and are scheduled to continue until 9 p.m. First on the program at the carnivals in most cases is a dinner, prepared by the youngsters' mothers.

School district officials said that, despite the practice of youngsters going out a day ahead of Halloween, there has been a "marked decrease" in vandalism since the advent of the carnivals.

Booths at the carnivals will have foods, games, "white elephant" sales, bazaars, "cake walks," country stores (to sell canned goods), spook houses, garden plants and rock displays.

Most of the carnivals will include a costume parade so the kiddies can show off their "disguises,"

Officials warned parents to be be sure that the children can see through their masks, in order to avoid acidents.

And don't allow children to use plastic bags for masks, they said—because of the danger of suffocation.

Proceeds from the booths and dinners at the carnivals, schools officials said, will be used by the PTAs for their child welfare work. Most PTA groups, they said, have no other means of raising money during the school year.

While the elementary youngsters are shouting and playing at their carnivals, the students at Lemon Grove Junior High School will be enjoying a "record dance." Teachers will supervise the dance.

No organized activity is scheduled at Spring Valley Junior High School.

Mt. Miguel High School students are looking forward to a "Trick or Treat Tromp" (a Halloween dance) from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Friday. To be held in the "Quad" along with a carnival, it will feature dance music on records and will be supervised by members of the faculty. A costume contest is scheduled.

Trio of Juniors Wins Window Art Contest

A trio of juniors from Mt. Miguel High School walked off with the grand sweepstakes prize last weekend in the Soroptimist-sponsored Halloween window painting contest in downtown Lemon Grove.

The contest was open to individuals or teams of artists from the seventh and eighth grades at St. John of the Cross School, Lemon Grove Junior High School and Mt. Miguel High School.

Mrs. Jean Woody, chairman of the event, said that "several" merchants had contributed money for the project and had asked that the Halloween pictures be painted on their windows—"but we ran out of artists."

She said that the project was "successful" despite the disappointment to some of the participating merchants.

The youngters who entered the competition made almost as great an impression on the public with their enthusiasm as they did with their artistic skill.

One young lady showed up in a painter's smock. Another looked the part with an authentic beret. Almost all of them seemed more interested in the festival spirit of the contest than they

Sen. Kuchel To Visit Here Monday

U.S. Senior Senator Thomas H. Kuchel of California will visit in Lemon Grove Monday, he announced.

Senator Kuchel will arrive here at 11:45 a.m. to visit friends and constituents in the office of the Lemon Grove Review, 7834 Lester Avenue, Lemon Grove.

All persons wishing to visit with the Senator are invited.

At noon he will have lunch at the Lemon Grove Rotary Club at Michael's. Judge Fenton Garfield of El Cajon will be Senator Kuchel's host.

Irrigation District Tax Bills Mailed Out

Over 37,000 assessment tax bills have been mailed to property owners in the Helix Irrigation District.

The tax bills, which cover the period from July 1, 1959, to June 30th, 1960, are due and payable on the first Monday in November and may be paid in full or in two equal installments. The first installment is delinquent after December 20, 1959, and will be subject to a 10 percent penalty at that time.

The Helix Irrigation District assessment tax is levied to pay off the District's bonded debt which totaled $8,344,768.40 at the end of 1958. Money collected through District taxes is used only for bond service, as all other expenses are met from water revenues.

The tax rate in the original District is 80 cents per $100 valuation, based on unimproved land value. The El Cajon Annex, which was annexed to the District in 1954, will pay a total tax rate of $2.52 per $100 valuation, in order to repay a special bond issue for which the area is obligated.

Taxes may be paid at the offices of the Helix Irrigation District, 8111 University Ave., La Mesa, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

County Tax Bills Due for Mailing, Collector Says

Area property owners will receive county tax bills the first week in November, San Diego County Tax Collector Wilbur Easton said this week.

He said more than 300,000 tax bills will be turned over to the post office Saturday. Few of them will be delivered before Monday, he said.

The first half becomes due Monday November 2. The first half becomes delinquent at 5 p.m. December 10.

Second installment is due February 1 and becomes delinquent April 11.

A six per cent penalty will be placed against property owners who issue "dishonored" checks. A fee of two dollars will be added to the tax bill for each piece of property covered by the check. There was no penalty for uncashable checks in the past, he said.

Tough Little Boy Back in News With 2nd Adventure

The other day we printed a story about how three-year-old Gregory Elsner of 7510 Zemco in Lemon Grove was run over by a car but suffered only minor bruises.

Apparently Greg is even tougher than we thought.

A couple of days after the car episode, his mother, Mrs. Robert Elsner, thought Greg was going to fall.

She ran over to grab him, slipped and kicked him instead.

Mrs. Elsner suffered a broken toe.

Greg was not hurt.

operations in the State of California, takes a different tack.

He states his position in the curent issue of Welfare News, a publication of the California Department of Social Welfare, the department which Wedemeyer directs.

He complains that there are people who would restrict the Aid To Needy Children program. Restrictions, says he, are not the answer to any problems that may be associated with the A.N.C. program. Placing of more restrictions will not prevent certain people from making welfare a way of life, he says. Yet, he offers no solution for the ills of this terribly expensive part of public welfare except to berate the "relatively few" who would "bring public notice upon themselves by dishonesty and socially unacceptable behavior."

Apparently, Mr. Wedemeyer would have his Welfare Department regulate every facet of our existence, for he says: "Our experience has brought new recognition that the dependency of many families is only one of several results of complicated marital, emotional, and economic problems which are basic in situations of some parents, individuals, or social groups.

"We see more clearly that these basic problems must be solved partially or entirely before the families can resume a normal pattern of day-to-day-living . . . "

The implication here is plain, I think. Almost everyone who develops a marital, emotional or economic problem would be a prime prospect for Welfare Department control.

As I see it we need legislation that would release our citizens from the control of these huge state agencies so that people might again learn the joys of self-reliance and the benefits of self-respect.

Let's face it! Anyone who thinks he will never face a marital, emotional or economic problem is like the fellow who quit growing old. He is dead!

KIWANIS PROJECT—Freeborn Cressy, left, president of Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club, explains to R. L. Scott, manager of Lane's Men's Wear, why he should buy some apples from Kiwanians. Miss Kathie Holmes, Mt. Miguel High School senior who was sent to Girls' State this past summer by the Kiwanis Club, assists. Kiwanians this week launched an intensive drive to sell apples—with the proceeds to be used in their youth activities such as Little League, Boy Scouts and aid to needy children.

Top Brass Changes At Michael's Cafe

Michael's Steak House, 7828 Broadway, Lemon Grove, has been reorganized under a sole proprietorship, it was announced this week by Ray Johnston.

Johnston became sole owner when he and Joe Papitto, with whom he had been associated in the operation at Michael's and in the operation of several fence construction firms, split their interests recently.

Papitto became owner of Aztec Fence Company and Johnston took Sierra Fence Company of Lemon Grove, and Michael's.

Johnston named Al Dolder, former manager of El Nadadero Club and The Aztec Steak House, as new manager of Michael's. Otherwise the personnel remains intact.

Dancing will be held every night of the week beginning this week, Johnston said. Charlie Krauss, a Lemon Grove personality, will provide a dance trio.

Emphasis will be placed on Sunday dinners as was the case in former years, Johnston said. Paul Hoffman, chef when Michael's first opened, is in charge of the kitchen.

Supervisors Delay Decision on Recreation Area

minimum 10 percent of registered voters in the proposed district have signed petitions asking its formation. He told Supervisors that Tuesday's hearing was limited to setting boundaries and to act upon the requests for exclusion or inclusion.

Among the requests for exclusion was a petition by property owners in a portion of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District situated in the proposed district's eastern portion. This represented the largest exclusion request in land area.

V. J. Dorman, a Lemon Grove attorney representing the proponents of the district, said he had been told by former Acting Registrar of Voters Al Nichols that an election could be set Dec. 22, provided that boundaries were established in time.

He urged that Supervisors not grant continual postponments of the boundary hearings.

Rudolph Benitez, acting engineer for the County Boundary Commission, told Supervisors the proposed district has a total assed valuation of 25 million dollars. Of this, he said, prior requests for exclusion have been received from residents with property valuation totaling $200,000 — slightly less than one per cent of the total.

Many of them, however, have property isolated within the proposed district boundaries and not contiguous to the boudaries.

Supervisors instructed Benitez to prepare a new map showing the additional exclusion and inclusion requests for presentation when the hearing is resumed next Tuesday.

Supervisor David Bird urged the board to consider exclusion requests carefully.

"There's a solid string of Spring Valley people opposed to this idea," he said. "They question the benefits they'll receive. If they want out, and we can let them out, we should do it so they won't drag down the voters who are for it."

McLees told the board that exclusion and inclusion requests must be in writing.

Jaycees to Hear A.A. Speaker

A representative of Alcoholics Anonymous will be guest speaker Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the Lemon Grove Jaycees at Michael's Cafe.

The speaker is cloaked in anonymity as the association's name indicates, but all young men who might be interested are invited to attend.

CAC TO MEET

Grossmont Union High School District's Citizens' Advisory Committee will meet Monday evening, November 2, to consider reports from the curriculum and the junior college subcommittees. The Committee meets at 7:30 p.m. in the Board of Trustees' room on the Grossmont High School campus.

What's Doing In the PTA?

After the business meeting of the Casa de Oro PTA recently, the parents were invited to visit the classrooms, to get acquainted with the teachers and their children's work. Refreshments were served by the mothers of sixth grade students.

Mrs. Richard Wilson, PTA president announces that no meeting will be held in November.

Mrs. Leonard Binder, Halloween carnival chairman, and her committee are working hard to prepare a "better than ever" carnival this year. She said that support of the carnival, to be held Oct. 31, assures the budget for the CDO PTA during the term 1959-60. If you can help in any way, call Mrs. Binder at HO 9-1345.

Sweetwater Ties Miguel 14-14 In Fight on Helix Gridiron

By Bill Ott

The Sweetwater Red Devils came from behind last Friday night to tie the Mt. Miguel Matadors 14-14 with 1:37 of playing time remaining in the game.

Ronnie Miller's 1-yard plunge gave the Red Devils a 6-0 first quarter lead on the Mt. Miguel field.

The Matadors defense tightened up and held the Devils to a scoreless second quarter while the Miguel offense led by fullback Eric Lindsten who scored on a 5-yard jaunt through the middle of the Devil line for Mt. Miguel's first tally of the game. Dick Schwab booted the PAT for the Matadors and gave them a 7-6 halftime intermission score.

Sweetwater held the Matadors deep in their own territory part of the third quarter and the Devils picked up 2 points when Miguel halfback Ron Snow was caught behind the goal line on a pitch-out play which forced the Matadors to punt. Dick Monette was rushed by the center of the Sweetwater line and the punt was blockd to give the Red Devils a 8-7 third quarter margin.

Ron Snow scored from 15 yards out to boost the Matadors to a 13-8 advantage and Dick Schwab once again booted the ball through the uprights for the PAT to give Miguel a 14-8 margin over the Devils.

Sweetwater stole one of quarterback Jerry Baker's passes to set up a march downfield that proved to be the tying touchdown of the game. Joe Bonilla scored on a 17-yard run to tie the game all up at 14-14. Once again the PAT boot for the Devils failed.

Miguel again had a chance to score but lost the ball when halfback Dick Monette fumbled.

Lindsten picked up approximately 165 yards rushing to lead the Matadors in rushing. Lindsten set up the second touchdown by continuously picking up the first downs when they were needed.

Mt. Miguel steps out of league play Friday night to face Gardena at Gardena. Kick off time is slated for 8 p.m.

Score by quarters:

Mt. Miguel	0	7	0	7	—14
Sweetwater	6	0	2	6	—14

Square Dance News . . .

Want to learn to square dance? Frontier Squares will start a beginners class Nov. 4. And if you have been away from dancing for awhile and want to brush up, Frontier Squares' other class is now in intermediate stage — just the right time to catch up on those square-thrus and cross twirls! Both groups are instructed by the club's caller, Bill Keller.

The club members have their regular dances on the second and fourth Saturdays at Spring Valley Junior High School. You are invited to "sashay out their way" for an evening of fun, especially on Nov. 28 which is the date for Frontier squares big Fourth Anniversary dance.

The Promenaders Square Dance club had its masquerade dance Wednesday night of this week at the Spring Valley C ofC hall. On Oct. 21 a delicious spaghetti dinner was enjoyed by the club. Following the dinner a discussion was held regarding nomination of officers, scheduled for next week.

Frank Dyson was club caller for the evening's dance. Hosts and hostesses were Irl and Goldie Kaupp and George and Marian Baylor.

Guests of the evening were John Ralph of Long Beach, Bill and Vi Bruner, Floyd and Helen Smith, Tom and Kathleen Edwards, and Larry and Lois Smith.

The Heartland Fifth Saturday Square Dance will be held this Saturday at the El Cajon Armory from 8 to 11:30 p.m. with a Halloween theme. Ray Columbe, Slim McInroe, Ken Reid and Art Riding will be mikeside. There will be prizes for the best costume (optional) plus door prizes. Come and enjoy the Halloween fun.

—o—

Fun and frivolity reigned supreme on October 16 when 43 Country Cousins ventured forth in the fog to the Sunny Hills Barn in Fullerton to join our "Cousins" of Norwalk in celebration of their third anniversary dance. We won a case of coffee for having the largest single group of Country Cousins in attendance.

Seventy-two Legion Squares from Lynwood, Cypress Twirlers from Cypress and Shuffles and Ruffles from Long Beach danced with us Saturday night, October 24. A goodly number of other guests from San Diego groups added to the pleasure of the evening.

We still have a few tickets left for our Thanksgiving dinner, November 14, $1.50 per plate.

Keep December 31 an open date for a gala New Year"s Eve Dance with us "Cousins."

Newsmen Team Tells Story Of Newspapers

Two area newspapermen supplied programs for service clubs in Lemon Grove during National Newspaper Week, just ended.

Larry Freeman, manager of the East County office of the Union-Tribune, and Max Goodwin, publisher-editor or the Lemon Grove Review and the Spring Valley Bulletin, gave duplicate talks at the Lemon Grove Rotary Club and the Lemon Grove Optimist Club. Both clubs marked the program with ladies' night. The Rotary met Monday at De Angelis Restaurant. The Optimist met Thursday at the Bowlero.

Freeman told the audiences that most news is of necessity a "matter of record."

"We may know a man to be a lawbreaker but we don't call him a lawbreaker in print until he is properly charged by law enforcement officials by democratic processes," Freeman said.

"News gathering is mostly hard work and research," he said. Feature stories often take days of research to gather but only a few minutes to write, he added.

Goodwin said reporters often spend several hours gathering information only to find that they can produce no more than a short paragraph due to lack of substantial fact.

Freeman said daily newspapers respect demands for honesty and good taste in other than editorial departments.

"Daily newspapers turned down nearly nine million dollars worth of advertising last year because of these considerations," he said.

Goodwin said his newspapers turn questionable advertising over to the Better Business Bureau for checking

Both speakers charged that there is constant pressure from many sides to curtail the freedom of the press.

"The motives are selfish," Freeman said.

Goodwin pointed out that a free press is a main defense against government.

This year's theme for National Newspaper Week is "Your Newspaper—Freedom's Textbook."

L.G. Chamber To Register Voters

A new service is being provided by the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, according to Jesse Lee, chamber manager.

Voters may register at the office at 7350 Broadway Monday through Friday from 9 to 3. Chamber Secretary Clois Peavler is the registrar.

Lee said that Chamber president Bill Parker would be absent four days starting Monday to be guest of the U.S. Navy aboard the Aircraft Carrier Oriskany. Parker and other civic leaders in the San Diego area will spend the four days observing naval air operations off the southern California coast.

A special meeting will be held by the chamber Friday at 9 a.m. in the board room of the Southland Savings and Loan office to discuss the Broadway improvement project. All interested persons are invited.

San Diegan to Head New Shoe Store In Lemon Grove

Darrelb Kitaen, manager of the women's department of Keating's Shoe Store on University Avenue in San Diego, has been named manager of Keating's new store in Lemon Grove.

The new store is planning a grand opening celebration on November 5 at its 7888 Broadway location.

Kitaen said that the Lemon Grove store will be a "cancellation" store similar to the one in San Diego. It will have shoes for all members of the family, he said.

L.G. Pair Take Awards In Forensics

Two Lemon Grove young people, both in the same family, took individual honors earlier this month as members of the San Diego State College forensics team.

Bruce and Eleanor Chassy, son and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Chassy, 3288 Main St., took speech awards in a competition among 17 colleges.

Bruce 16, earned "superior" in impromptu speaking and "excellent" in extemporaneous.

Eleanor, 18, took "excellent" awards in interpretation and impromptu.

They were among 13 entrants from San Diego State.

Spiritual Values To Be Theme Of Conference

"Spiritual Values In Today's Living" will be the theme of the Second Annual La Mesa Methodist Church Conference. Related to the general theme will be an emphasis on community mental health.

The conference, which is open to the public, begins Nov. 1, 7 p.m., at the La Mesa Methodist Church, 4960 Palm Ave., La Mesa.

Guest speakers throughout the conference include Dr. John Robuck, Dr. Richard Barbour and the Reverend Ralph D. Bonacker. In adition to the guest speaker there will be discussion group leaders to assist with pertinent problem analysis.

Mrs. John Emerick and Mrs. Milton Wright look at decorations being made for St. Philip's Episcopal Church Christmas Fair.

Christmas Fair to Offer Gifts Made by Scraps of Ingenuity

The grasses and seeds of Nature's fields, the glasses and jars from the kitchen shelves, the shells of eggs, the sides of packing boxes, odd pieces of plywood and even candies. All these have gone into the making of gift offerings for St. Philip's Episcopal church Christmas Fair which will be held on November 7, in the Parish House.

Sparking the affair are Mrs. John Emerick, chairman, and Mrs. Milton Wright, co-chairman, who have the following items to offer made by the members of the Women's Assembly: Christmas trees for table decorations made from egg cartons and aluminum pie pans, combined with the many uses of crepe paper to make wise men, choir singers, and other ornaments. Sweetmeat trees, door stops, shadow boxes and door ornaments are made into acceptable gifts by adults and young people from the odd wood pieces. Beautiful wreaths are made from candies, seeds, cones, and fruit in beautiful arrangements for the Christmas dinner tables, beautiful dolls with complete wardrobes to delight the young misses, and comic dolls to charm the babies. A post office with mysterious parcel post packages for those who like to guess and a grab bag for the teens and sub-teens, There also will be the usual offerings of fine needlework and knitting for young and old.

The snack bar for the hungry will be in the charge of Mrs. Jessie Nutter and her crew. The members of the Young Peoples Federation have had their part also in the preparations and will sell their many beautiful products at the Youth Section of the Fair. Mmes. Jack Gowin, Ray Nichols and Samuel Miller set up the decorations for the affair.

The food will be sold by Mrs. Elizabeth Ridenour and committee; Mrs. Milton Wright is gift chairman; Miss Marjorie Jackson and Mmes. Dora Clements and Russell Ray handle the Christmas tree decorations. The Youth Cection is in the charge of Mrs. Lee LaGrange assisted by Mmes. Paul Kelly, Charles Foster, Kenneth Bowers, William Riley, John K. Taylor and members of the YPF. Mrs. Fern Warren is chairman for the Garden Table; Mrs. Kenneth Adcock handling the parcel post and Mrs. DeWain Ridenour is treasurer.

Mmes. William Fletcher and James V. Wheeler are in charge of the dolls.

Sherry Netzley, Mary Barrett Win Foreign Scholarships

Two Mt. Miguel High School girls were selected this week as exchange students and they will study for a semester in a foreign country, the country yet to be decided.

The girls, both juniors, and both taking college prep courses, are Sherry Netzley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Netzley, 2324 Golden Avenue, Lemon Grove, and Mary Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Barrett, 3535 S. Bonita Street, Spring Valley. Sherry's father is superintendent of the Lemon Grove Elementary School District.

The students were selected by a committee of twelve community and civic leaders.

The two young ladies selected by the committee will be sent to a country, probably in Europe, designated by the American Field Services. A continuing progrom of sending top American students abroad on an exchange basis as a means of promoting democracy was made available to Mt. Miguel High School students for the first time last year when Joyce Martin was sent to Germany.

As part of the exchange program Mutsumi Nishifuji of Japan, and Angelo Sanza of Italy are currently attending classes at Mt. Miguel.

Mrs. Dwight Putnam, 3055 Crane Street, Lemon Grove president of Mt. Miguel PTA, said that the program has produced significant results in the field of international understanding. The program is sponsored by a local citizen, Harvey Furgatch of 2219 Morose, Lemon Grove, but a wider base is planned by encouraging service clubs to help underwrite the exchange students' expesne.

L. M. UNITED PRESBYTERIAN

The La Mesa United Presbyterian Church, 4426 Harbinson, La Mesa, will hold regular services at 930 and 11 a.m. Sunday with the Rev. Kenneth E. Grant, pastor, using "The Panic Button" as his sermon title.

Newspaper Asks Zone Variance

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — A public hearing on a request for a zone variance for a newspaper storage building in Lemon Grove will be held Friday by the County Planning Commission.

Max Goodwin, publisher of the Lemon Grove Review and the Spring Valley Bulletin, is asking for permission to build with a rear yard of one foot and four inches, compared with the required 15 feet, for property at 7334 Lester Ave.

Similar variances have been granted in the area, Goodwin's application states.

Nutria Breeders Plan Conference in Santee

Spring Valley and Lemon Grove nutria breeders will join others of the Southern Caliornia branch of the Cabana Nutria Breeders Association in a conference Sunday, November 1, at the Santee School auditorium.

The conference is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.

Nutria are beaver or otter-like animals, natives of South America, which are raised for their fur. Nutria breeding has become a substantial business in the United States in recent years.

Mrs. Charles (Kippy) Harrington of Santee said that the nutria breeders will elect a board of directors at the November conference and will hold a general discussion of the association's goals in research, growth, advertising and marketing.

Also, she said, the group will discuss the annual conference of the national association, held recently in Illinois. The organization, Mrs. Harrington said, has been in existence five years and has 3,000 members. It is initiating a marketing program through the House of Maxmillian, New York furriers.

In attendance at the Santee conference will be Leo Crowder, national director; Vern Schaap, president; Jere Martin, distributor, and fur ranching members from Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego counties. National organization offices are in Arcadia.

Once Over Lightly

by Don Wilson

"Darling," my wife said in a plaintive tone....and I ducked out of the way. She never calls me Darling unless 1) She wants me to buy her something or 2) She already has bought something for herself and is trying to figure out a way to tell me.

"Yes?" I said.

"The radio doesn't work," she said.

"So what?" I said.

"So I can't hear Young Doctor Malone any more," she said.

"So what?" I said.

"So I MUST hear Young Doctor Malone," she said.

I took the radio down to a radio shop.

"It doesn't work, I said.

"They never do when people bring them in here," the man with the screwdriver and soldering iron said.

"Can you fix it?" I said.

"Don't know. Haven't looked at it yet," he said.

"Please?" I said.

So he took one of the tubes out, walked over to a big machine, put the tube in a hole, pulled some levers and punched some buttons. A big needle swung up into a green spot.

"This one's okay," he said.

He took out another tube and tested it the same way.

"This one's okay too," he said.

He tested all the rest of the tubes and they all checked out okay.

"Don't see anything wrong," he said.

He flipped the switch on and off a couple of times. Nothing happened.

"What's under that tape? he asked, pointing to some black tape wrapped around the electric cord near the gadget that you plug into the wall.

"I don't remember," I said.

He rubbed his hands together and leered slightly.

"Let's peek," he said.

We did.

The cord was broken.

We cut it off and put the plug back on.

Young Doctor Malone is back in our kitchen again.

I'm fascinated by changes in sociological patterns.

The rules listed below were posted on the bulletin board by a Manhattan elementary school principal in the year 1872:

1. Teachers each day will fill lamps, clean chimneys and wicks.

2. Each teacher will bring a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's session.

3. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs for the individual tastes of your children.

4. Men teachers may take one evening each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go to church reglarly,

5. After 10 hours in school the teachers should spend the remaining time reading the Bible or other good books.

6. Women teachers who marry or engage in other unseemly conduct will be dismissed.

7. Every teacher should lay aside from each pay a goodly sum of his earnings for his declining years so that he will not become a burden on society.

8. Any teacher who smokes, uses liquor in any form, frequents pool or public halls, or gets shaved in a barber shop will give a good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity and honesty.

9. The teacher who performs his labors faithfully and without fault for five years will be given an increase of 25 cents per week in his pay providing the Board of Education approves.

First National Bank Earnings on Upswing

The First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego reports that its earnings for the first nine months this year rose to $1,754,044.05 from $1,427,192.73 in the same period last year.

Earnings for the first three quarters of 1959 amounted to $1.66 per share compared to $1.35 per share for the same period last year, based on present capitalization of 1,056,000 outstanding shares.

Loans for the first 9 months this year rose to $114,454,921.62, from $96,146,420.55 on December 31, 1958. This was an increase of more than 18 million dollars.

Jack W. Koop, manager of the bank's Lemon Grove branch, said the bank's deposits totaled $222,884,385, up seven million dollars from the 1958 year-end total of $215,854,759.

Student Guidance: How Does The System Work?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles on student guidance. Others will appear in subsequent editions of this newspaper.

By Dr. Edward C. Roeber

Have you ever thought about why you are working in your present occupation? Perhaps it was an accident — or you may have carefully planned it to the last detail.

Accidents may have worked well for some of us. But most parents are not willing to have their children's success or failure be an accidental thing.

In order to increase the probability that vocational success will depend upon some rhyme or reason, student guidance leaders for more than fifty years have been developing ways in which to help students plan and develop careers.

Because it is a difficult task to help students make plans and carry them out, guidance counselors cannot be sure of success in every case. There is no doubt, though, that their work greatly improves the chances for satisfaction and success in life.

The professional guidance counselor is interested in helping your child learn how to plan for himself rather than be dependent upon someone else to make his plans for him. He also recognizes that career planning and development cannot be settled in a short period of time but, for almost everyone, is actually a lifelong process. New experiences change our interests, attitudes, goals, and eventually may affect our vocational plans.

It is important that we fully understand what is meant by the word "career." Resarch indicates that most of us work in a series of occupations, some related and some unrelated to our final occupation at the time we retire.

Bob White, for example, may have begun as a car washer, then worked in numerous auto service stations as an attendant, before becoming an auto mechanic and eventually the owner of a small auto repair shop. All of these kinds of work represent Bob's career. In his case, his occupations were definitely related to each other.

Roger Smith, on the other hand, did many odd jobs around his neighborhood and worked part-time at all sorts of jobs while getting a medical degree. Most of the early jobs were not related but depended upon circumstances and accidents. After getting his degree, Roger became a doctor in a small community; but after a serious illness, he became a doctor at a university and later director. Not too many years passed before he became director of research for a national drug firm. What will he do next? It is safe to guess that it will have something to do with medicine, but in what capacity? Whatever he does, Roger's career is the complete array of all his occupations.

It is important that parents realize that a pattern of occupations, or a career, cannot be predicted with certainty. Two children may be alike in most ways but react quite differently to the same experiences at school or eventually at work. In the same way, two students, who are very much alike, may find economic conditions affecting their chances for jobs in different ways.

The key to understanding vocational guidance rests upon an understanding of these lifelong careers. The target for vocational guidance becomes a series or pattern of somewhat related occupations, a mere speck among the 40,000 or more kinds of employment in the world of work.

Vocational guidance begins with a child's many experiences and decisions while he is still in school. It can eventually influence his entry into the world of work. Vocational guidance can also follow and assist in his progress once he is employed, but it is most important in his student life.

In order to see more clearly just how complex adequate vocational guidance really is, parents might like to look at one example. Be sure to remember that this is just one example—and each child's planning is usually quite different.

An organized program of vocational guidance provides a counselor with special skills who could talk over the student's ideas as well as those of his parents. These discussions occurred many times during the high school year and especially at those points when critical decisions and plans were important. Whether to take college preparatory courses or not? What courses to take Or what school activities might be beneficial.

Periodically, the student's interests, abilities, aptitudes, and achievements were checked with tests of various kinds.

Records of school achievement, as well as other in-school and out-of-school activities were kept from year to year.

An up-to-date collection of material provided the student with all types of information regarding vocational schools, colleges, occupations, the armed services, school adjustment, etc.

He was exposed to many types of educational and occupational information through his regular classes, assemblies, home room, career days, college nights, the school paper, and other group activities.

In finding an appropriate college, he was assisted by receiving information, filling out application blanks, locating a scholarship, and other such activities. If he had decided to find a job or go into the armed services, he would have found an equal amount of assistance provided through the vocational guidance program.

In addition, while still in school and after leaving school, this individual was contacted from time to time in an attempt to offer further assistance in planning, preparing for, and progressing in his career.

Adequate vocational guidance requires special knowledge and skills. Take the above example and multiply him by a few million — you now can sense the size of the task ahead in guidance.

It is only good sense that a school which helps a student prepare for some career should help him explore, plan for, and progress at that career. Perhaps the years ahead will see less and less schools leave vocational guidance to chance.

America Needs Heroes, Speaker Tells Men's Club

"If we are to compete with the Russians," a San Diego minister and educator told the Lemon Grove Men's Club last Friday, "we must 'enshrine' our great men, make them live in the hearts of the American people."

The speaker was Dr. Frank Lowe, president of the San Diego County Council of Churches and member of the San Diego school board.

He returned recently from a two-month tour of Europe with a group of educators and visited several countries in the Comunist area.

One picture that he formed mentally, he said, was that of the solemn crowds of people who visit the tombs of Lenin and Stalin every day. The people, he said, passed the caskets of their dead heroes in an attitude of worship.

"They are in a godless country," Dr. Lowe said, "but they are not irreligious. Communism is their religion.

"As they believe that Christ came to give salvation to the poor people, the Russians believe that Communism is the salvation today for the peoples of the world."

Dr. Lowe went on to tell of economic and social "pictures" formed in his mind as he toured the countries.

He said that there is no consideration there for the individual, but only for the government.

"And this," he said, "is part of a gigantic hoax.

Russia is no military or economic threat to the United States because their campaigns are all front. There is nothing in the back. It is like a building with a beautiful facade and only rubble behind the doors."

But the speker warned against discounting the efforts of the Communists.

"The people," he said, "are slaves—but they are not slaves as we normally think of them. These are willing slaves, dedicated, enthusiastic slaves to the doctrine of Communism."

Larry Freeman, East County representative of the Union-Tribune, will address the Men's Club Friday.

Highway 94 Delegates 'Invade' Sacramento, Urge Freeway Action

A delegation from the Highway 94 Club is in Sacramento, armed with resolutions urging immediate decision on a route for Highway 94 Freeway through Spring Valley.

The final ammunition for the delegation's siege of the California Highway Commission was voted Monday night as the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce urged the adoption of the northern of two proposed routes for the freeway.

"This," said Bill Avril, president of the Highway 94 Club, "should force an immediate decision. All the other important organizations already are on record as favoring the northern route. We have resolutions from the Casa de Oro Chamber of Commerce and the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce as well as a resolution from the Highway 94 Club."

Action on a resolution in favor of the northern route for the freeway (the other route would have taken off from the existing freeway in Lemon Grove and then across Spring Valley) came after the chamber heard a report that the northern route would keep more traffic off the local streets.

BULLETIN

The California Highway Commission has adopted the northern of two proposed routes for Freeway 94 through Spring Valley, according to a teletype message received Wednesday at the San Diego Division office of the highway department.

—o—

Jacob Dekema, district engineer for the state division of highways, said that improvement of Campo Road through Spring Valley could not be started until a decision has been made as to what route will be followed by the freeway.

"Then," he said, "we can begin our engineering both on the freeway and on the improving of Campo Road."

Dekema and others from his office appeared at Monday's Chamber meeting to explain plans for the freeway.

After the meeting, Avril and Edward Leonard of the Highway 94 Club said that they would go to Sacramento on Tuesday to urge the highway commission to take immediate action on adopting a route for the freeway.

REV. H. C. BAKKEN
"PRAY OUT OF NEED"

Prayer is not a ritual that we go through each day. Prayer is putting into words our needs. If we are self-sufficient, we do not need God. The praying person knows that he is absolutely dependent upon God for every breath of fresh air, every drop of water, every morsel of food and every beat of his heart. God alone can cleanse him from sin. His prayer is out of need.

County's Schools To Get Big Share Of $562-Million State Aid Fund

San Diego County schools will receive the second greatest share of a $562,000,000 fund being distributed among the state's 1,721 school districts, Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, said this week in a special report.

The state funds will be distributed by June, 1960, Simpson said.

Only Los Angeles County will receive a greater share of the multi-million-dollar fund, Simpson's report showed.

San Diego County will receive a total of $36,165,990. Elementary schools in the county will get $23,304,369 of this; high schools will receive $11,525,324; junior colleges will get $888,375, and a "service fund" of $591,458 is set aside for use by the county superintendent of schools for "direct services to smaller districts and other purposes."

Though their total receipts will be less, both Stanislaus and Orange counties are slated to receive more junior college aid, and Fresno County's superintendent of schools is to receive a greater "service fund."

Those funds represent the bulk of 1959-60 state support for public schools voted by the Legislature during its 1959 session, Simpson said.

Another $72 million will be apportioned later in the school year for special purposes and to compensate districts for increased enrollments. Total state funds voted for public schools including junior colleges total $634 million, Simpson added, averaging $201.10 per pupil.

State funds will be paid to counties in monthly installments through June, 1960, and in separate payments for growth and special purposes. Allotment of funds among the 58 counties is based on the previous year's assessed valuation and average daily attendance.

Next year a new law will end difference in computing state aid to school districts, now based on individual county rates of assessed valuation. Because these rates vary from 17 to 27 percent of market value, counties with lower rates receive more state aid for their schools.

Under the new law, each county's ability to support its schools will be judged on the statewide average assessment rate. That will put all districts on the same basis and end the present inequities, Simpson said.

Television Series Changes Times

The new television program, "Why Teacher?", will now be seen at 1 p.m. on Sundays instead of, as previously announced, over KFSD-TV, local San Diego station. The show features, during its 14-week series, all phases of education as seen through the eyes of leading educators under the expert "probing" of seasoned reporters.

Kids To Get Pun'kins By The Ton Here

You'll be seeing a lot of Jack-O- Lanterns hereabouts this week-end.

As a matter of fact its a cinch you'll be seeing at least a ton of 'em.

Johnny Ambler and Loren Kuentzel, the two enterprising operators of Don Diego Markets, is having a truck load of farm-fresh pumpkins shipped to their Lemon Grove store for free distribution to the first 500 kiddies who ask for them Thursday starting at 3 p.m.

Only gimmick is Frankie or Mary must have Momma or papa along.

Each pumpkin weighs about six pounds. That leaves a lot of scrapin's for a pumpkin pie, too.

LET US ALL PRAY TOGETHER AS A FAMILY

WHEN WE COME TO CHURCH . . .
ARE WE PROPERLY DRESSED?

Like the guest in the parable of the wedding most of us do not wear appropriate garb.

1st—Are we penitent for our sins and ready to accept God's full forgiveness?

2nd—Are we in love and charity with our neighbor?

3rd—Are we ready to lead a new life following the Commandments of God?

4th—Are we continually presenting ourselves to Christ for cleansing and guidance?

The Casa de Oro Baptist Church will hold formal dedication ceremonies for the new building, Sunday at 3 p.m. The new Casa de Oro Baptist Church is located at 10195 Madrid Way. Ministers and representatives from area churches will participate in the dedication. There will be special music. A tour of the building and the serving of refreshments are on the program. Rev. Ernest Anderson, pastor, says everyone is invited and he wants the community to know the church purposes and to feel they are welcome.

A report was given at the Sunday morning services of the Bancroft Baptist Church on the recent "Parade of Dimes," in which dimes were laid end to end on yard sticks, the money going to the missions of the Southern Baptist General Conference of Calif. Approximately 8 yard sticks were filled, about 24 feet.

The Southern Baptist General Conference will meet in the Conference Bldg., Balboa Park, Nov. 3-5, according to Rev. Lewis Ginn of the Bancroft Baptist Church. He said this is the first time in many years that the meeting has been held in the San Diego area, and probably will not be held again for about ten years.

The Royal Ambassadors of the Bancroft Church (a boy's group) invite all boys in the 9 to 17 age group, who are seeking Christian fellowship, to join the Ambassadors. The group meets each Saturday at 3 p.m. in the Bancroft Baptist Church, 2300 Bancroft Dr., Spring Valley. A different lesson is studied each week. The group also has a good outdoor program, the next being a deep-sea fishing trip. Counselors are Gordon Clark and Joseph Lawrence (HO 6-2097). Rev. Ginn's number is HO 9-7420.

Band Uniform Preview Set For Parents

A preview of the new Lemon Grove School Band uniforms is scheduled for all music parents of the Lemon Grove District on Monday evening, November 2, at a special fund-raising dinner meeting. Bob Roberts, uniform sales representative, will have a student member of the band model the outfit which to date has been clothed in secrecy. Even the model's name has not been revealed.

The dinner, which will be served at the junior high cafeteria from 6 to 7, is under the auspices of the band uniform committee, headed by Ray Lange. Sam Pernicano, local restaurateur and member of the committee, will serve an Italian meal to music parents and direct profits into the uniform fund.

Since an accurate count is necessary for the dinner, music parents and others interested in working on the fund-raising activities may secure reservations by phoning Mrs. H. L. Hensley (HO 6-6326) or Mrs. Fred Weber (HO 3-4796). The cost is 75 cents per plate, child or adult.

During the dinner and meeting, child care will be provided. A special baton twirling demonstration by Bob Roberts completes the program.

BANK PAYS

The First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego will pay a regular quarterly dividend of 21¼ cents a share on common stock Nov. 1, to shareholders of record Oct. 20, according to Jack W. Koop, manager of the bank's Lemon Grove branch.

The Mail Box

Dear Editor:

I should like to call your attention to an intolerable condition confronting people living in Lemon Grove.

On two occasions, a contractor laying new water lines has broken the connecting line, causing disruption of service from 2 to 5 hours. This has put large areas in jeopardy from fire hazards which could not be sucessfully fought by the fire department in addition to the inconvenience of householders being without water for domestic and sanitary uses. The areas without water involved breaks in water lines serving Mercury Dr. and Massachusetts Avenue.

The cause in both cases was attributed to improper use of powered excavating equipment. It is a dangerous practice to use such tools in the immediate area of the water pipe connecting line and manual probing also is engaged in a practice which must be more costly in the long run as lost labor and material in making repairs would compensate many times for the small additional cost of properly using hand tools in digging for connecting lines.

The Helix Irrigation District disclaims responsibility for such breaks, but the District does have a responsibility to see that such disruption of service does not occur. This could be largely accomplished by requiring the posting of a forfeitable cash bond of $1,000 or more by the contractor payable when such breaks occur in connecting water lines. Performance requirements should also be included in such contracts that would serve to prevent such breaks in the water lines.

Ralph S. Torgerson

Dear Editor:

I have been sending out some "thank yous" this morning and just wanted to drop a line to you to thank you for the fine coverage you are giving the activities of the Coordinating Council.

I think many of us believe that the work of the Council is most vitally needed since we have no other form of local expression in Lemon Grove. The way in which you are giving many inches of front page space will do much to educate and alert the local public to our community needs.

I want to congratulate you upon another year of service to the community as National Newspaper Week comes to an end. A community-centered newspaper is a vital thing in a town like ours and the moral responsibility of giving the people the facts is heavy upon you. You are doing a fine job discharging this responsibility.

Finally, a word of thanks for your coverage of local church news items, not only for us but for all churches. We appreciate this.

Sincerely,
The Rev. Donald B. Cooke
Pastor, The Lemon Grove
Methodist Church.
